

Science Museum gantt chart

For this gantt chart i have decided to split it up in days. The reason for this is that the chart is for me and I want it as specific as possible. I also decided on not using hours but days insted. I prefer to have different workloads and therefor i didn't want the hours spread out evenly.

I chose to just have one critical part as i am doing all the work. Therefor i dont think its fitting to have just more then one path.

I try to keep the chart as simple as possible with few colors. I like these charts the best because they dont get cluttered with too much information and is easy to read.

In the end i added a buffer of 3 days. This is becuae there is alot of short tasks in the end and this can often result in tasks taking longer then expected.
